

Take Your Daughter to the Course Week
Supporting Junior Women Golfers with Free Green Fees and Teaching Clinic

In association with Play Golf America, Heritage Shores Club will be participating in "Take Your Daughter to the Course Week" once again this year.

Bridgeville, Delaware (7/5/10) – Heritage Shores Club is offering free green fees to female golfers ages 18 and under during the week of July 5-11 as part of "Take Your Daughter to the Course Week," a national player development program spearheaded by the National Golf Course Owners Association and promoted in coordination with The PGA of America. Free green fees valid when accompanied by a paying adult from 11am to 5pm.

In addition to free green fees, Heritage Shores Club will offer a free clinic on Wednesday, July 7th from 11am to 12pm. This clinic will focus on basic techniques from full swing to short game with information on rules and etiquette.

"As the popularity of the game grows amongst the younger generations, we feel it is important to make golf more accessible through offering special pricing and programs geared directly towards our junior golfers," says Jason Feller, General Manager at Heritage Shores Club, "Events like these are a great way to expose new golfers to the game and encourage family involvement."

Heritage Shores Club is an 18-hole facility with a Clubhouse and driving range, located in Southern Delaware off Route 13 in Bridgeville, just outside the nearby beach cities of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Delaware. More information about the course and its facilities can be found at www.HeritageShoresGolf.com or by calling 302.337.7514.
