New Leadership Appointed at Southern Delaware Golf Club

Heritage Shores Club announces the hiring of Jason Feller as the new General Manager to oversee the operations of the golf, dining and resident relations.

Bridgeville, Delaware (6/1/10) – Jason Feller has been announced as the General Manager at Heritage Shores Club in Southern Delaware. Feller brings with him an enthusiasm for providing exceptional customer service and a business savvy that will provide Heritage Shores Club with success and the necessary tools for being recognized as one of Delaware’s finest golf experiences.

“Returning to Southern Delaware and joining the team at Heritage Shores Club is an exciting step in my professional career. This is a beautiful property and an extremely unique venue for the area, and I am looking forward to being a part of it,” says Jason Feller.

Feller’s previous experience in Club management at such facilities as Wilmington Country Club in Delaware and Columbia Country Club in Maryland, coupled with extensive knowledge of food and beverage operations has made him a clear choice for this position. In addition to management, Jason brings strong leadership and the ability to motivate and lead the staff to drive revenue at this semi-private Arthur Hills championship golf course, dining and event venue.

Feller is active in the Club Managers Association of America and holds a Bachelor of Science in Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management from University of Delaware where he graduated with honors.
